

Energy Theft Reduction Expert Group

What is the ETREG?

The Energy Theft Reduction Expert Group (ETREG) is a RECCo committee that has been formed to provide expert advice and guidance to RECCo on matters relating to the reduction of energy theft.

- The activities of the group include:
 - ✓ Advising and feeding back on the RECCo Theft Reduction Strategy and Initiatives
 - ✓ Advising on matters relating to the Energy Theft Tip-Off Service (ETTOS) and Theft Assessment Calculator
 - ✓ Advising on the development of Change Proposals regarding energy theft
 - ✓ Discussing operational issues relating to Theft Reduction matters and propose industrywide solutions
 - ✓ Providing input towards Category 3 operational products and guidance documents relating to Energy Theft
 - ✓ Supporting initiatives to increase awareness of Energy Theft
- Group members are required to act impartially and independently of the interests of their employer

Who Attends the Group Meetings?

Chair

The Energy Theft Reduction Expert Group is chaired by Aiyasha Andrade from RECCo Ltd.

Members

The group members are drawn from across energy industry parties. There are nine group members, who can each appoint an alternate. Members are appointed by RECCo Ltd and must have relevant experience and expertise related to the detection, investigation, prevention, and deterrence of energy theft.

RECCo Experts

Material for the discussion by group members is produced by a number of experts from RECCo including Rebecca Lowe (Theft SME); Lynne Fallon (Theft SME); Jon Dixon (Director of Strategy and Development); and Tracy Hardy (Project Manager).

Technical Secretariat

The Technical Secretary for the group is Rosalind Timperley from the REC Code Manager.

Can I Join the Group?

The Energy Theft Reduction Expert Group (ETREG) members are appointed by RECCo Ltd based on their knowledge and expertise in matters relating to Energy Theft.

If you are interested in contributing to the discussions of the group and supporting RECCo in delivering its Energy Theft Reduction Strategy and initiatives, please contact enquiries@recmanager.co.uk to discuss if there is capacity in the group for an additional member and/or alternate member.
