The Code Manager hosted a Performance Assurance Webinar on 05 June 2024 in which various topic areas were discussed within the scope of Performance Assurance including a breakout room session with members of the Performance Assurance Team.

Thanks to all who joined us and had their say, it was great to hear directly from so many of you where you think we should prioritise and why. If you didn't manage to attend our Performance Assurance Webinar you can still have your voice heard by filling in the survey here. The output from this will help us understand where the Code Manager should focus. We will take these views on board as we develop our operating plan with the PAB and feedback the outputs of this process directly to you.

Please complete and return by 17:00 on 14 June 2024. If you have any questions, please reach out to enquiries@recmanger.co.uk and we are happy to help. Thank you in advance for spending the time to complete this form.

Creating user permissions for new SDEP Process Types

DNOs

As part of the implementation of Change Proposal R0121 - SDEP Review Improvements (1) - Process Types in August 2024, we are running a one-off exercise to update the permissions of new/existing users of the Secure Data Exchange Portal (SDEP) for the new Process Types (use cases). All registered SDEP Master Administrative Users (MAU) are being contacted directly in the next few days and offered the opportunity to provide user details by close of play on 08 July 2024.

We are providing a template to populate with details of users you wish to assign access permissions for the new Process Types. If you don't wish to participate, you will be able to register the relevant users after the August release, via the usual process in the SDEP.

We are also providing supporting information about the Process Types to help you determine which team members you wish to assign permissions to.

If you have any questions about this permissions exercise or about R0121 more generally, please contact enquiries@recmanager.co.uk.
